ABOUT ME

I am a 4th grade Information Systems Engineering student with strong time management, discipline, and patience. My hands-on experience with programming languages such as Python, JavaScript, HTML, and CSS, along with my interest in computer vision and mobile application development, highlights my passion for technology. I continuously improve myself and bring innovative solutions to complex problems. My interests include coding, learning new technologies, traveling, football, volleyball, photography, and finance/investing.
